

Getting to Yes (22. – 28. March 2010)

Coaches and leaders in every field need to win friends and inspire people to participate. But when we try to show people a better way, they often feel diminished for the way they are. Here you learn how to transcend ordinary sales and negotiation so you can find common ground with others and move your entire life to a resounding “Yes”. Don’t miss this opportunity to transform your world for the better.

Coaching Mastery (21. – 27. April 2010)

The only valid way to learn masterful coaching is by rehearsing in the presence of other top coaches. Come to Ibiza this spring to fine-tune your ability to lift your clients to astonishing levels of peak performance. This high level course will reveal your coaching errors and provide new skills that will put you at the top of the profession.

Innovation & Entrepreneurship (19. – 25. May 2010)

People used to prosper by working jobs and by conforming to tradition. But now jobs are disappearing, the stock market has collapsed, and bankers have no interest in your business plan. Fortunately, there is a better way. Free agent entrepreneurs earn more by learning and practicing the eight proven avenues of innovation. They prosper by creating unique products and services. If you want to succeed, this course is what you need.

Coaching School (23. – 29. June 2010)

Most folks figure they have good people skills, but only a few great players really have the skills to inspire people to high performance. Continuous improvement is the key to success. Here you will learn how to use the Sage Performance Scales and to utilize the Ten Transformers to improve your communication skills in every arena of life.

Rock & Roll Camp (25. July – 01. August 2010)

You will perform better at work and in school when you learn to move an audience with your enthusiasm. Moms, dads and kids have one thing in common – they all resonate to music. So the GCN Summer Camp provides the venue to put away those business costumes and set aside the roles you play and to meet each other in the freedom and excitement of performing live together.

How To Talk to Men (25. – 31. August 2010)

Women can upgrade their personal and professional lives immensely by becoming aware of masculine patterns of communication. Men and women often say the same things to convey different meanings altogether. When you can discern the subtle differences in tone and meaning, you can forge great partnerships with the opposite gender.

Sales Mastery (18. – 24. October 2010)

How much you earn comes down to how well you sell. Most people have money worries, simply because they can’t inspire people to get what they want. When you can persuade people you can get every thing you need and most of what you want. Mastering the art of salesmanship is your key to better living. Spend a few days with us to increase your confidence and your ability to serve other people.

Tuition for each course: 560 Euros

Course schedules depend on enrollment and are therefore subject to change. Please contact Mia Sage at info@globalcoachingnetwork.net to confirm dates and location before you book accommodations and flights.